The Mental Capacity Act - one year on Developments in practice

Salomons

About the conference

This unique event will bring together staff from social services, the NHS, voluntary and independent sector organisations and legal services to discuss how practice is changing as a result of the Mental Capacity Act.

Opening with a presentation from Professor Hilary Brown, the delegates will work through a series of case studies during the event. The case studies will allow attendees to evaluate how practice is developing and draw on the knowledge of experts who will visit each group.

The day will end with a session allowing delegates to share their responses to the case studies and learning.

Aims of the event

Attendance will allow delegates to:

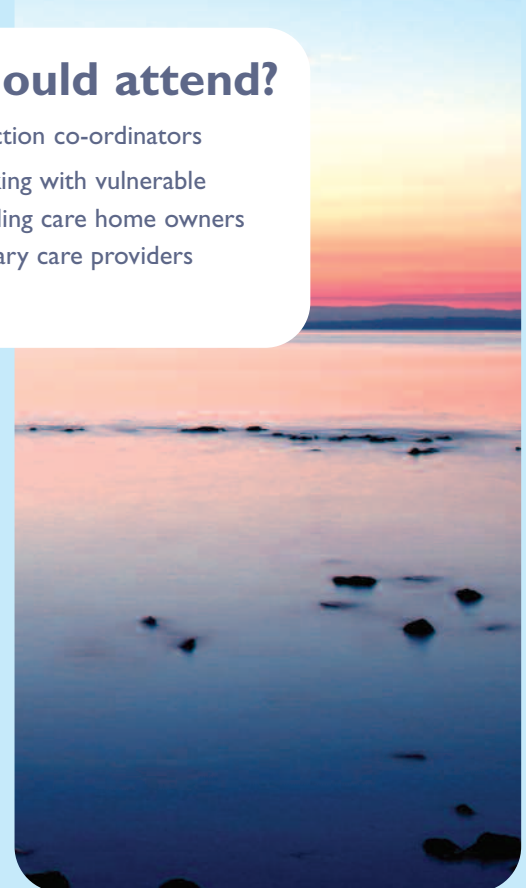

- understand how practice is developing
- draw on the knowledge of a variety of experts from different fields and backgrounds
- ask questions about current cases in a safe and confidential environment.

Who should attend?

- Adult protection co-ordinators
- People working with vulnerable adults, including care home owners and domiciliary care providers
- Solicitors

About Rix and Kay Solicitors

Rix & Kay Solicitors is one of the south east region's leading law firms, with 16 partners and more than 100 associates, paralegals and other staff. Committed to providing timely solutions to specific needs, Rix & Kay Solicitors provides a complete range of legal services to private and corporate clients through its dedicated specialist departments, including the Catastrophic Injury & Clinical Negligence Team, created in 2007. The firm has a national reputation for its work relating to capacity issues, with several of the team acting as professional receivers. They can advise on the appropriate steps to be taken when a person's capacity fails, and make applications to the Court of Protection for elderly, vulnerable and severely injured clients who require assistance with managing their affairs. For more details about our teams, and their full range of services, please visit our website at www.rixandkay.co.uk.

About Salomons

The Centre for Applied Social and Psychological Development (CASPD) is concerned with making a real difference to the development and delivery of services for people with social and psychological problems. We do this by running an innovative and responsive range of programmes; carrying out consultancy work to assist in the development of health and social care services and teams; undertaking innovative and original research; and ensuring those working in CASPD are involved in practice and providing psychological therapy. The Centre has a national reputation for running the Doctorate in Clinical Psychology Programme.

Unable to attend?

Conference papers, as presented to the delegates on the day, are available on CD-ROM after the conference for £60 + VAT. This useful reference will include: available speakers' papers, speakers' biographies and any additional inserts.

Continuous professional development

Professionals within the Social Care sector are required to undertake Continuous Professional Development (CPD) by the General Social Care Council (GSCC). Delegates can gain CPD points from attending our conferences and exhibitions.
