

OVERVIEW

ACAMH is a not-for-profit membership organisation for all those engaged in child and adolescent mental health and its related disciplines. It is committed to advancing standards, disseminating knowledge and enhancing clinical practice in a multi-disciplinary setting, to best meet the psychological needs of children, young people and all those engaged with their care and development.

Members span the whole spectrum of those involved in CAMH, from trainees to senior consultants, academics to clinicians, individuals with an interest in CAMH to those responsible for designing and leading services. The many disciplines spanning members include psychiatry, psychology, paediatrics, psychotherapy, social work, nursing, education and all other related fields.

Conferences:

ACAMH's academic events are a valuable source of information and professional development for those working within child and adolescent mental health.

Branch events are held throughout the year to target the needs of professionals at the local level and ensure they remain abreast of developments. Events focus on a variety of topics, and balance the traditional areas with more focused subjects designed to appeal to different disciplines.

Non-members are welcome to attend most meetings, though they are encouraged to join the Association and help shape its programme.

Conference programmes are automatically mailed out to members; if however you are not a member but wish to join the mailing list and receive personal notification, please either email acamh@acamh.org.uk or telephone 020 7403 7458.

Membership includes:

- multi-disciplinary forum drawing together like-minded professionals
- monthly issues of Journal of Child Psychology and Psychiatry
- quarterly issues of Child and Adolescent Mental Health
- quarterly issues of the members newsletter The Bridge
- access to the members-only Master Class Series of intensive, practical, evidence-based workshops
- access to Special Interest Groups on a number of topics
- national and local network of branches
- interactive website with discussion forums
- concessionary rates at meetings
- reductions on certain publications

Joining ACAMH:

The annual UK subscription rate for 2009 is £60.00 (with a one-off joining fee of £10.00). Direct debit payments attract an annual discount of £5.00.
